A CRUEL ADVERTISEMENT.

B. BOWMAN CAUSES THE ARREST OF

MRS. GEORGE KIRKLAND.

BOAST ABOUT THE PUBLICITY

OF THE AFFAIR.

The high art of advertising is a continued tax on the ingenuity of the business world, and new schemes and tricks are constantly being evolved.
The public usually recognizes these efforts, and the ingenious advertiser reaps the benefit. An advertising trick, though, which entails discomfort and annoyance on a refined woman, compels her attention at a police court for hours, and causes her finally to be held in $1,000 bail for the Grand Jury on a charge of larceny, can hardly result otherwise than disastrously to the perpetrator.

As told in The Tribune yesterday, Mrs. Jessie B.
Kirkland, the daughter of the late General Waller, U. S. A., and wife of George Kirkland, banker, with office at No. 18 New-st., has been charged by Sidney B. Bowman, a dealer in bicycles, with the larceny of a wheel. To any one who knows Mrs.
Kirkland the charge must seem ridiculous, and it is evident from what he said on the subject that Mr. Bowman himself is not quite sure whether or not he has made a mistake. The wheel about which all the trouble arose was once the property of the Princess Hatzfeldt, the daughter of C. P. Huntington. It was sent to Mrs. Kirkland by Bowman, and after trial a price was agreed upon, terms of payment were settled, and Mrs.
Kirkland was under the impression that she owned the bicycle. A few days afterward the Princess wanted to take a ride, and asked for her old wheel for a few hours. Bowman, anxious to please her, sent a messenger to Mrs. Kirkland's home, No. 153 West End-ave., and asked her to allow him to use her bicycle. She refused to do so.

Thereupon Bowman demanded immediate pay, called at the Kirkland house, made a scene in the hall, and shaking his fist at Mrs. Kirkland, boisterously vowed he would have the wheel. He refused to accept a check in payment, but went before Justice McMahon for a summons, which was served on Mrs. Kirkland, and last Monday she had to appear in the Yorkville Court.

The man who made the charge stayed away, and Mrs. Kirkland answered through her counsel, Roger A. Pryor, Jr. Bowman then swore out a complaint, in which it is charged that Mrs. Kirkland did wilfully and unlawfully take, seize and possess herself of one bicycle belonging to the said Sidney B. Bowman, and that she does unlawfully hold, retain and possess the said bicycle.

The case came up yesterday, and Mr. Pryor examined and cross-examined Mrs. Bowman, and the case went to the Grand Jury, where it will probably be quashed.

Bowman was seen at his place of business yesterday, and while insisting that he would "say nothing," declared: "Of course, it's to my advantage to have this thing published—it's a good advertisement."

Mrs. Kirkland has received many messages of sympathy. Her husband will probably sue Bowman for malicious prosecution.
